MORS 200

Funeral Service Seminar

3 Semester Hours

The Community College of Baltimore County

Description

MORS 200 – 3 Credits – Funeral Service Seminar provides a capstone experience, a culmination of the Mortuary Science Major's preparation for entry into funeral service. Through experience and the application of knowledge, the student will demonstrate proficiency in funeral service theory and practice. The student demonstrates expertise by participating in authentic and/or simulated situations that are encountered upon entry into funeral service. The student will be required to take the National Board Exam (NBE) that is administered by the International Conference of Funeral Service Examining Board (ICFSEB) as the final exam of the seminar. The National Board Examination requires a separate fee; for details see www.cfseb.org

3 credits, 3 lecture hours per week

Prerequisites: Students are required to have completed all other required courses for the Mortuary Science degree with a grade of C or higher.
