

WLFR 101
Introductory French I
3 credits

Community College of Baltimore County
Common Course Outline

Description

WLFR 101 – Introductory French I: develops cross-cultural communication and global citizenship through the acquisition of reading, writing, listening, and speaking skills in French at a novice level. It provides connections to other disciplines and cultures through the study of French and develops an awareness of the cultural contributions and socio-political contexts of diverse, often underrepresented groups throughout the French-speaking world. Topics related to local and global diversity provide the context through which language skills are taught and learned. Communicative competence at a novice level is emphasized, and learning is supported by instructional technologies.

Co-requisites: ACLT 053 or ESOL 052 and ESOL 054

Overall Course Objectives

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. recognize isolated familiar words and phrases in context in spoken French;
2. use novice-level vocabulary from familiar material to perform basic routine tasks in simple social situations;
3. derive meaning from short, predictable written texts that convey basic information about familiar topics or contexts;
4. write short sentences about familiar, well-practiced topics that accurately use novice-level grammatical structures;
5. communicate orally using simple, high-frequency words and phrases related to predictable topics in French;
6. engage in ongoing, simple conversations in class to obtain basic information, exchange simple greetings, and name and describe concrete objects;
7. deliver a short oral presentation on a culture-related topic using multimedia technology in French at a novice level;
8. identify the major countries where French is spoken, both by dominant and underrepresented groups;
9. compare and contrast the histories, traditions, practices, and perspectives of diverse French-speaking groups throughout the world;
10. explore the experiences of diverse French-speaking groups in relation to speakers of other languages, including English, in historical and contemporary contexts;
11. convey knowledge of other disciplines through the study of the French language; and
12. demonstrate proficiency in the use of instructional technology for the study of the French language at a novice level and the cultures of French-speaking groups.

Major Topics

The Common Course Outline (CCO) determines the essential nature of each course.
For more information, see your professor's syllabus.

- I. Listening
- II. Speaking
- III. Pronunciation including sound system
- IV. Reading
- V. Vocabulary
 - a. Routines
 - b. Descriptions of places and objects
 - c. Daily activities
- VI. Grammar
 - a. Present tense
- VII. Writing and information literacy
- VIII. Language as a fundamental category of diversity
 - a. Language variation
 - b. Language and ethnicity
 - c. French as a dominant and minority language
- IX. Immigration
 - a. Stereotypes and discrimination faced by immigrants
 - b. The role of immigration in multicultural societies where French is spoken.
- X. Relationships between language and culture
 - a. Cultural sensitivity, awareness of one's own culture in the process of studying another culture, and cultural relativism.
- XI. Identities, values, traditions and experiences of diverse French-speaking groups in multiple geographic cultural, political, and historical contexts.
 - a. The French-speaking diaspora
 - b. Conquest and colonization in the French-speaking world
- I. Significant elements of the societies and cultures of French-speaking groups (to include the arts, histories, politics, religions and other achievements)
 - a. Multi-disciplinary contributions

Course Requirements

Grading will be determined by the individual faculty member, but shall include the following, at minimum:

- Exams: All faculty members will administer a minimum of four exams, including a midterm and a final exam. Each exam will assess reading, writing, listening, and awareness of topics related to culture and diversity. The final and midterm exams will assess speaking.
- Oral Communication: Oral proficiency in French will be developed daily through communicative activities. Students will be required to develop and deliver at least one oral presentation on a cultural-diversity related topic using multimedia technology in French at a mid-novice level.
- Writing: At least two specific writing assignments related to culture and diversity are required. The approved GREATs project, which must assess at least 5 of the 7 general education outcomes, is worth at least 10% of the total course grade. This writing assignment is a research project that emphasizes culture and diversity as they relate to the experiences of underrepresented groups in French-speaking contexts. It will be written in English, and it must be 3 pages. 2. At least one other writing assignment must be written in French, using vocabulary and grammar at an intermediate level on a topic related to culture and diversity, and must be 1-2 pages. This writing assignment must demonstrate clear communication at a mid-novice level in French.

The Common Course Outline (CCO) determines the essential nature of each course.

For more information, see your professor's syllabus.

- Language Learning Software: This course is technologically enhanced by language learning software.

Written assignments and research projects: Students are required to use appropriate academic resources in their research and cite sources according to the style selected by their professor.

Other Course Information

This course is an approved 3–credit General Education course in the Arts and Humanities. One or more assignments will infuse CCBC General Education Program outcomes and will account for a minimum of 10% of the total course grade. The assignment(s) will allow students to demonstrate at least 5 of the 7 General Education program outcomes. This course is approved for General Education Diversity and Global Education programs.

World Language Common Course Outlines are developed with guidance from the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (ACTFL) Proficiency Guidelines:

<http://www.actfl.org/publications/guidelines-and-manuals/actfl-proficiency-guidelines-2012>

Date Revised: 1/25/2022

The Common Course Outline (CCO) determines the essential nature of each course.
For more information, see your professor's syllabus.