The Community College of Baltimore County

Description

WLJP 201 – 3 credits – Intermediate Japanese I develops cross-cultural communication and global citizenship through the acquisition of reading, writing, listening, and speaking skills in Japanese at an intermediate level. It provides connections to other disciplines and cultures through the study of Japanese and develops an awareness of the cultural contributions and socio-political contexts of diverse, often underrepresented groups throughout the Japanese-speaking world. Topics related to local and global diversity provide the context through which language skills are taught and learned. Communicative competence at an intermediate level is emphasized through production in the Japanese language, and learning is supported by instructional technologies.
