Independent Study in ART

1-3 Semester Hour(s)

The Community College of Baltimore County

Description

A faculty-mentored, independent course of study in which the students, with the consent of the instructor, may elect to do independent research and projects in the ARTS.

Overall Course Objectives

Upon successful completion of this course students will be able to:

1. Achieve objectives beyond the current course offerings into areas of more advanced study and technique;
2. Experience alternative modes of instruction
3. Maximize the level of instruction in Art by pursuing a program of individualized instruction and independent work.

The design of the proposed study includes specific project objectives to be achieved by the student and a schedule of meetings and criticism, and is individually contracted between the student and the department.

Major Topics

To be determined by the written independent study contract and approved by the department chair and the division dean

Course Requirements

Methods of evaluation to be enumerated in the contract but must include written documentation and research as well as a creative performance or portfolio.

Other Course Information

Written contract from the department and the division must be presented at registration. Six credits may be applied toward graduation.
