

WLJP 201
Intermediate Japanese I
3 credits

Community College of Baltimore County
Common Course Outline

Description

WLJP 201 – Intermediate Japanese I: develops cross-cultural communication and global citizenship through the acquisition of reading, writing, listening, and speaking skills in Japanese at an intermediate-low level. It provides connections to other disciplines and cultures through the study of Japanese and develops an awareness of the cultural contributions and socio-political contexts of diverse, often underrepresented groups throughout the Japanese-speaking world. Topics related to local and global diversity provide the context through which language skills are taught and learned. Communicative competence at an intermediate-low level is emphasized, and learning is supported by instructional technologies.

Pre-requisites: Completion of WLJP 102 with a C or better, or contact the coordinator for placement.

Co-requisites: none

Overall Course Objectives

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. apply intermediate-low level grammatical structures in Japanese;
2. recognize simple, sentence-length speech related to familiar personal and social situations in spoken Japanese;
3. use intermediate-low level vocabulary from familiar material to perform routine tasks in a variety of straightforward social situations;
4. derive meaning from a range of short written texts that convey basic information about familiar topics or contexts;
5. write sentences about familiar, diverse topics that accurately use intermediate-low level grammatical structures;
6. communicate orally using words and phrases related to straightforward social situations in Japanese;
7. engage in ongoing conversations in class to name and describe objects, complete transactions and express preferences;
8. deliver a short oral presentation on a culture-related topic using multimedia technology in Japanese at an intermediate-low level;
9. identify the major countries where Japanese is spoken, both by dominant and underrepresented groups;

The Common Course Outline (CCO) determines the essential nature of each course.
For more information, see your professor's syllabus.

10. analyze the histories, traditions, practices, and perspectives of diverse Japanese-speaking groups throughout the world;
11. evaluate the experiences of diverse Japanese-speaking groups in relation to speakers of other languages, including English, in historical and contemporary contexts;
12. analyze social and ethical issues related to cultural differences in Japanese-speaking contexts;
13. interpret other disciplines through the study of the Japanese language;
14. demonstrate proficiency in the use of instructional technology for the study of the Japanese language at an intermediate-low level and the cultures of Japanese-speaking groups; and
15. locate, evaluate, use and cite research sources when completing written assignments.

Major Topics

- I. The Japanese alphabet
- II. Listening
- III. Speaking
- IV. Pronunciation including sound system
- V. Reading
- VI. Vocabulary
 - a. Descriptions of environments
 - b. Personal information
 - c. Basic exchanges
- VII. Grammar
 - a. Present tense
 - b. Past tense
- VIII. Writing and information literacy
- IX. Language as a fundamental category of diversity
 - a. Language variation
 - b. Language and ethnicity
 - c. Japanese as a dominant and minority language
- X. Immigration
 - a. Stereotypes and discrimination faced by immigrants
 - b. The role of immigration in multicultural societies where Japanese is spoken.
- XI. Relationships between language and culture
 - a. Cultural sensitivity, awareness of one's own culture in the process of studying another culture, and cultural relativism.
- XII. Identities, values, traditions and experiences of diverse Japanese-speaking groups in multiple geographic cultural, political, and historical contexts.
 - a. The Japanese-speaking diaspora
 - b. Conquest and colonization in the Japanese-speaking world
- XIII. Significant elements of the societies and cultures of Japanese-speaking groups (to include the arts, histories, politics, religions and other achievements)
 - a. Multi-disciplinary contributions

Course Requirements

Grading will be determined by the individual faculty member, but shall include the following, at minimum:

The Common Course Outline (CCO) determines the essential nature of each course.

For more information, see your professor's syllabus.

- Assessments: All faculty members will administer a minimum of four assessments, which could include a midterm and a final assessment. These assessments will include reading, writing, listening, speaking and awareness of topics related to culture and diversity.
- Oral Communication: Oral proficiency in Japanese will be developed daily through communicative activities. Students will be required to develop and deliver at least one oral presentation on a cultural-diversity related topic using multimedia technology in Japanese at an intermediate-low level.
- Writing: At least two specific writing assignments related to culture and diversity are required.
- The approved GREATs project, which must assess at least 5 of the 7 general education outcomes, is worth at least 10% of the total course grade. This writing assignment is a research project that emphasizes culture and diversity as they relate to the experiences of underrepresented groups in Japanese-speaking contexts. It will be written in English, and it must be 4 pages. At least one other writing assignment must be written in Japanese, using vocabulary and grammar at an intermediate-low level on a topic related to culture and diversity, and must be 1-2 pages. This writing assignment must demonstrate clear communication at an intermediate-low level in Japanese.
- Language Learning Software: This course is technologically enhanced by language learning software.

Written assignments and research projects: Students are required to use appropriate academic resources in their research and cite sources according to the style selected by their professor.

Other Course Information

This course is an approved 3–credit General Education course in the Arts and Humanities. One or more assignments will infuse CCBC General Education Program outcomes and will account for a minimum of 10% of the total course grade. The assignment(s) will allow students to demonstrate at least 5 of the 7 General Education program outcomes. This course is approved for General Education Diversity and Global Education programs.

World Language Common Course Outlines are developed with guidance from the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (ACTFL) Proficiency Guidelines:

<http://www.actfl.org/publications/guidelines-and-manuals/actfl-proficiency-guidelines-2012>

Date Revised: 3/6/2023

The Common Course Outline (CCO) determines the essential nature of each course.
For more information, see your professor’s syllabus.